Since 2010 Jim LeMunyon has served in the Virginia House of Delegates, representing the 67th district in the Fairfax and Loudoun County suburbs of Washington, D.C. He is a member of the Republican Party.

1) What would you say makes your jurisdiction great?
There are a number of reasons, including: that the 80,000 people I represent are, as a whole, well-educated and very civic minded. Many are employed in technology businesses that improve our lives in countless ways with their products and services. Nearly one person in four has come to Northern Virginia from another country, adding to the diversity of our region.

2) In 20 words or less, what message would you like to share with the George Mason University community?
George Mason would have been very proud of the university that is named after him!

3) What was your first job?
Delivering newspapers.

4) Do you have Apple or Android?
Apple

5) What is the number one thing on your bucket list?
Visit all 50 states. I've visited 47 so far.