1) What would you say makes your jurisdiction great?
The people who live in it.

2) In 20 words or less, what message would you like to share with the George Mason University community?
We're delighted to have you as part of our community. Lifetime learning and creativity is what we're all about.

3) What was your first job?
English teacher with the Peace Corps in the Central African Republic.

4) What do you do when you're not working?
Read, take a walk, ride my bike, play the piano, sing, spend time with my grandchildren.

5) What is the biggest challenge facing your jurisdiction today?
Setting spending priorities -- we need to not build a streetcar.
