1) What would you say makes your jurisdiction great?
The citizens of Fairfax are what make our City great. We have great parks, wonderful schools, low taxes, safe neighborhoods, the finest services, a thriving arts program, and an amazing history, but it is the people who live here who make this community so inviting and provide the small town charm that we all enjoy.

2) In 20 words or less, what message would you like to share with the George Mason University community?
The City benefits significantly from its relationship with Mason and they are an important and integral part of our community.

3) What reading material is currently on your bedside table?
I just finished reading David and Goliath, a great book by Malcolm Gladwell and am currently reading Duty by Robert Gates.

4) What is your favorite local restaurant?
For lunch, I love to go to Have-A-Bite Eatery downtown. For dinner, my family and I frequently go to Artie’s or Asian Bistro. We have also recently tried Sister’s Thai and thought it was amazing. Dolce Vita is always a winner on Date Night, and we have also been going to Curry Mantra recently when we are looking to mix it up a little.

5) What do you do when you’re not working?
I love to exercise, play guitar, read, and spend time with my family.
