

FY 23 Congressional Awards

Congressionally Directed Spending (Senate):

Senators Kaine/Warner: Anastasia Kitsantas (CEHD), $1,950,000 to recruit and train college students to tutor K-12 students in the Northern Virginia region

Community Projects (House):

Representative Connolly: Christianne Esposito-Smythers (CHSS), $943,983 to reduce youth suicide by using evidence-based measures and developing a culturally sensitive evidence-based assessment battery

Representative Connolly: Amarda Shehu (CEC/SOB), $1,000,000, to provide career-long cybersecurity and IT modernization learning opportunities for federal government

Representative Wexton: Ali Andalibi/ Lance Liotta (COS), $820,000 to address the rapidly increasing incidence of tick-borne illnesses through diagnostic testing leading to improved early intervention that can reduce needless illness

Representative Wexton: Rebecca Sutter (CHHS), $1,037,519 to address substance use disorder through multi-sector partnerships and greater linkages between public health and criminal justice partners to develop effective interventions and improve treatment success.

FY 23 Total Senate and House Awards: $5.75 Million

FY 22 Congressional Awards

Congressional Directed Spending (Senate):

Senators Kaine/Warner: Cynthia Lum and Sue Ming Yang (CHSS), $1.483 million for police training on handling mental health related incidents

Senators Kaine/Warner: Allison Ward Parsons (CEHD), 1.83 million for a literacy center

Community Projects (House):

Representative Connolly: Jim Kinter (COS), $1.979 million for a Virginia Climate Center

Representative Connolly: Becky Sutter (CHHS), $1.15 million for nursing workforce education and training

Representative Wexton: Jessica Rosenberg (COS), $650,000 for K-12 Quantum Science education

FY 22 Total Senate and House Awards: $7.063 Million

For further information, contact Kerry Bolognese, Director of Federal Government Relations at 703-993-7710 or kbologne@gmu.edu